House Description

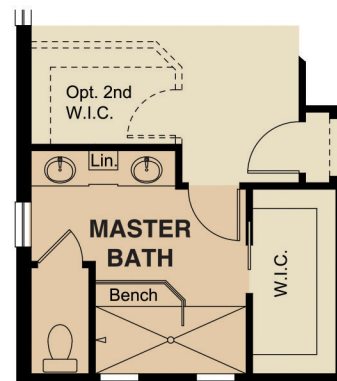

Building on the incredible floor plan of The Buckhorn, we decided to take the design to the next level by adding a few subtle, but valuable enhancements. Pushing the Study and Garage forward, increases the size of the Kitchen and Great Room. A task desk was added in the Great Room that is easily concealed by a beautiful sliding barn-style door. Both the Kitchen island cabinet and pantry were enlarged. The Utility Room was relocated, enlarged and made to be a secluded space, rather than a room you have to walk through while entering the house from the garage. This gave way to add a "Welcome Home" cabinet for additional organization in the hallway. Lastly, a half bath was added adjacent to the study as well. While these changes do increase the home size a little, the value of them will far out weight the additional investment.
